South Fulton Officials Seek Harmony Meeting

"The charter of the City of South Fulton clearly states that the Mayor has the authority to veto action of the Council," South Fulton City Attorney Charles Fields stated on Wednesday. The statement was made in reference to conflicting stories circulating in the Tennessee city that Mayor Milton Counce had no legal right to veto the appointment of O. L. Lamascus to fill the vacancy on the Council caused by the resignation of Arthur Matheny who has resigned because of his health.

Lamascus, who was the choice of Councilmen Harold Henderson, John Bland and B. B. Jones, was defeated for mayor during last year's city elections. He received a large number of votes as a write-in candidate in the general election, but not enough to elect him. Councilmen Rex Ruddle and Bobby Matthews proposed W. W. Claiborne as Matheny's successor. Mayor Counce defended his veto by stating that events of the recent bitter elections would not permit Mr. Lamascus to serve the best interests of the taxpayers in South Fulton.

Mr. Fields stated further that a two-thirds vote of the Council could override the Mayor's veto. This action would take four votes. The matter of Mr. Matheny's successor will be acted upon at the March meeting of the Council, it was reported.

Meanwhile Councilman Henderson, in discussing the stormy controversies of Monday night's meeting told the News: "Those of us who have been elected to serve the people are not fulfilling our obligations when we permit personal differences of opinion to be aired before our constituents. There is no question that all of us want to serve the people to the best of our abilities as we are obligated to do. I have discussed the affairs of South Fulton with

In other stories in this issue you must take appreciative note of the efficient and effective work being done by some enforcement officers. Fulton Police Chief Richard Myatt, Fulton County Sheriff Joe Campbell and State Detective Joe Page did some fine work on gathering information on some folks whose statements about activities didn't ring quite true. Our hats are off to the officers.

I want to hand a belated bouquet to Obion County Deputy Sheriff Harry Moss Letta for his diligent efforts in bringing into custody a group of teen-agers charged with breaking into the Fulton County Club. Harry Moss Letta is a real job on his hands there. With a lot of people driving in and out of the County Club for the holiday vacations the picture looked mighty dark for apprehending any real culprits. I think though, that if an army of people had camped out there, Harry Moss Letta would have continued his investigation of the robbery.

He tracked down every lead given him and uncovered a lot more for himself. He kept all concerned posted of his activities. He didn't seem to get discouraged when he came on a blind lead. He just knew those robbers were still around here and his confidence paid off. We're going to call him the Royal "Unmounted" Police from now on. Unmounted, because he drives a car not a horse. Harry Moss Letta, is one of those police officers who realize you can't catch 'em all... but it's certainly not because he doesn't try. Everybody is grateful for your fine handling of the case, Harry Moss. Thanks.

WORLD OF SPORTS

— By Charles Austin —

(Ed's Note: The News is as pleased as can be to have Charles Austin as a member of the staff to write news and sports from Fulton High School. Here's his first column. It's a good one.)

The other day I finally cornered Terry Beadles and started firing questions at him left and right:

Q. Which sport do you like best, football or basketball?

A. I like them both well.

Q. Which sport do you feel is the roughest, football or basketball? A. Football, because in football you try to make body contact, but in basketball you try to avoid body contact.

Q. Which position in the backfield do you think you will play for the U. K. Wildcats, quarterback or halfback? A. Quarterback, because I like quarterback best.

Q. What do you think Fulton's chances are of going to the State Basketball Tournament this year? A. We are going to have to play better than we are playing now, because there are a lot of good teams in the region and in the district.

I would like to thank Terry for answering a few questions for me.

I also had a chance to talk with Coach Yates, of the Fulton Bulldogs. During our chat I asked him what he thought Fulton's chances were of going to the State Tournament in Louisville. Coach Yates had this to say, "I feel we have a good chance as anybody. We have to get out of the region and district first. It mostly depends on the way the team drawings turn out. Fulton County and Hickman County have two tough teams. They could go to the State Tournament, just as we could."

Well, last week end was a big one for both the Fulton Bulldogs and the South Fulton Red Devils. Friday night the Red Devils downed the Gleason Bulldogs 83-64. Adding to the Red Devils score was the sharp shooting of

Drive For Orphan's Home Mystifies City; State Police Arrest Foundation's Head

David Walker, who says he is the president of the Sunshine Youth Foundation was arrested Monday on a charge of driving with a revoked driver's license. State Police Detective Hugh Page said Walker's driver's license was revoked last August after he was convicted of drunken driving. Walker is in the county jail at Hickman, under $500 bond, which he had not posted as of early Wednesday morning. His trial is set for today (Thursday) at Hickman.

Chief of Police Richard Myatt revealed that this is not the first encounter Walker has had with the police. Working with Fulton County Sheriff Joe Campbell and Detective Page, Myatt revealed to the News that Walker also has been charged with misdemeanors that include public drunkenness, escaping a police officer, breach of the peace and driving while intoxicated.

The investigation of Walker and his associates stemmed from conflicting reports received here as to the validity of a fund drive proposed here and in Western Kentucky to build a home for underprivileged children. Coming to Fulton about two weeks ago Walker and three other associates, Jerry Driskell, Mrs. Virginia Bell and a Mrs. Tomlinson distributed posters and canisters in an attempt to secure funds which they said would be used to build one of five proposed homes in Kentucky.

Driskell, who says he was named to the board of directors of the foundation recently also has been charged with two counts of drunk and disorderly conduct in previous years.

Suspicion concerning the intent of the foundation's officers was aroused when civic leaders, police and newspaper reporters sought more information concerning the proposed fund drive, and the manner by which any funds derived would be handled. While the Sunshine Youth Foundation was chartered in Kentucky in October 1961, as a non-profit, non-stock corporation, the first attempts to secure funds under the charter were planned for this area.

Conflicting stories as to the location of the proposed home have been rampant since the group arrived here. A reliable source in Mayfield told the News that the group reported that land had been optioned in Graves County. No evidence could be found of such an option or the persons involved.

Mr. Driskell, in an interview with the News said that 281 acres of land had been optioned in Hickman County. However, a check with the persons mentioned by Driskell revealed that no such option had been secured, nor did the individuals have any intention of giving one.

Voicing some indignation at the inquiries made of their operations, Mrs. Bell told the News that the group was leaving Fulton to take up residence in Clinton where, she said, they could be closer to the site of the proposed home. On Wednesday the Sheriff's office in Clinton revealed that none of the individuals could be found in Clinton. Asked if the office was looking for members of the organization, a deputy reported that Sheriff Stanley Hopkins was making a diligent search to find them and to see if any solicitations were being made in and around Clinton by the group.

Meanwhile, the News learned Tuesday, that a group of young people who could not be positively identified by residents interviewed were making house to house solicitations in Hickman in the name of the March of Dimes. Mrs. Marian White, police driver spokesman for Hickman, said that the persons making the solicitations were not known to her, nor were they authorized to make any solicitations.

Sobbing, Local Lady Tells Of Being Beaten, Attacked

"I was praying to the good Lord that he wouldn't kill me," a sobbing Mrs. Mary Mulcahy told the jury Monday in recounting the harrowing events of last August 10 when she was bound, gagged and beaten by a midnight intruder. She took the witness stand in the trial of Harry Lee Stewart, a transient, who was being tried on the charges of breaking into Mrs. Mulcahy's home and assaulting her while she was alone in her home on Green Street.

Stewart, a 29-year-old Negro, refused a defense attorney appointed by the court, stating that he would serve in his own defense. He refused, however, to question any of the jurors or the witnesses who were brought to the stand by Commonwealth Attorney Tip Reed. Pleading not guilty, Stewart sat in the courtroom during the whole proceedings. Sometimes sullen, sometimes sarcastic and sometimes showing amusement at the testimony, Stewart also refused to address the jury in his behalf.

Positively identified as the person who was seen in the vicinity of Green Street a few days before the break-in at the Mulcahy home, Stewart's police record dates back as far as 1964 for crimes allegedly committed in Los Angeles, Las Vegas, New Orleans and other large and small cities.

Mrs. Mulcahy, tenaciously attempting to control her emotions told of how her home was entered by the person she identified as Stewart, and how he beat, cursed and bound her in his apparent attempt to rob the Mulcahy home. Deliberating for more than 30 minutes the jury brought in a verdict of guilty on breaking and entering and assault and battery. He was sentenced to nine years in the State Penitentiary on the first (Continued on page ten)

Banana Festival Planning Ranges From Calypso To Arts And Crafts

It's almost eight months until Banana Festival Week in late September, but officials of the festival association are in almost daily contact making plans for this year's giant event. At a meeting of the board Monday night enthusiasm was running high discussing program suggestions that include such possibilities as a bull fight, an American-Central American Arts and Crafts exhibit, a soap box derby and even a Central American Music Festival. Some of the more popular events of last year's Festival, such as this Banana-a-rama, beauty pageant, Banana shoot, Banana Bake-off and giant parade with Miss America will be repeated again this year, it is planned.

Banana Festival Association President Joe Treas summed up the tone of the meeting when he said: "I had no idea being president of an organization could be as much fun and as worthwhile as this one is. I knew that the organization last year performed some almost unbelievable tasks, but I didn't realize that it could be done with so much apparent ease and enthusiasm."

The meeting was attended by nine members of the 13-member board. Before going into the business session the group heard a report from Mrs. Bob Morgan of her recent trip to Miami with Banana Festival Princess Carol Gleson. Mrs. Morgan gave a day-by-day account of the trip and was lavish in her praise of Princess Carol and the manner by which this beautiful and talented young lady conducted herself before television, radio and fruit growers' audiences. She was similarly extravagant in her praise of C. E. "Larry" Metcalfe, public relations director for the National Banana Association. "He was everywhere," she said. "He never missed a trick to give the twin cities the best possible publicity. He arranged all of Carol's appearances and Carol returned his efforts by capturing the hearts of everybody, I mean everybody, she came in contact with."

Nathan Wade, whose year's long persistence brought about the first annual Banana Festival, reported on his contacts with National Banana Association officials and told of some plans in the making for this year's festival. Mr. Treas appointed Mr. Wade as liaison officer from the local group to the national group. Larry Metcalfe was appointed as one of the consultants to serve on the local festival's board.

The group present elected two other officers to complete the five member board. Mrs. Maxwell McDade was re-elected secretary and O. L. LeMascus was elected treasurer.

Sparking some good fellowship at the beginning of the meeting President Joe Treas bestowed upon outgoing president Nathan Wade the honor of TOP BANANA. "Nathan Wade was so busy giving everybody else honors, nobody thought to return the compliment to him," Mr. Treas said. "Because of this you are to be known as the TOP, TOP BANANA, and the only such honor in existence."

The group also went on record as commending Floyd Martin for the great service he rendered to the organization last year. Mr. Martin, who served as first vice-president and finance chairman was credited with the efficiency of the entire financial picture.

"The only way we can say what Floyd Martin really did for the organization is to say that we couldn't have done the festival without him," Mr. Wade said.

An interesting development of the meeting was a report made by Mrs. Paul Westpheling of the possibility of securing State and Federal aid to erect a community center here in connection with the Banana Festival Association.

"It would be one of America's most interesting tourist attractions to have a building erected with

Fred Stokes, Jr. Named Director Of Oil Group

Fred Stokes, Jr., of the Stokes Oil Company in Hickman was named as a member of the board of directors of the Kentucky Petroleum Marketers Association. Mr. Stokes, who now operates the firm in which his late father was actively associated, was named at the recent convention held in Louisville.

More than 300 oil men and their wives attended the three-day meeting that heard a forceful address from Highway Commissioner Henry Ward. Mr. Ward discussed the financial problems facing this state highway program.

The organization went on record as endorsing a resolution condemning commercial facilities on limited access highways.

Furor Over Purchasing Vehicles For Certain State Officials Assuming Aspects Of Comedy

Kentucky's General Assembly is plodding its way into the fourth week of a hitherto undistinguished session. With few minor bills enacted thus far, we agree with Senator Scott Miller, Republican of Louisville, that he has "never seen a session crawl along like this one."

Unless the legislators decide to assume the responsibilities contingent upon them as representatives of the people, it looks like the Assembly will crawl into adjournment with nothing much to show for its efforts but some interesting visits in Frankfort, and a right healthy expenditure to the taxpayers for the administration of the session.

Surely there must be work to be done and legislation to be enacted until the Breathitt Administration's budget bill is presented to the body for debate and passage.

One certain item that the legislators can decide upon is the request made by four elected officials and one appointed official for necessary automobiles to be used by the respective officials in the conduct of their governmental businesses. The manner by which the request has been handled borders on the ridiculous. Governor Edward T. Breathitt said he would not approve such purchases.

He bases his refusal on the fact that the Kentucky law stipulates the specific departments and officials authorized to use State-owned vehicles. This being the case then, it remains for the General Assembly to enact legislation to provide automobiles for the officials named above.

This week a very prominent and able legislator tossed the matter back to the Governor remarking that the legislator "didn't want anyone to put the monkey" on his back. The automobile purchase matter is becoming so controversial that one would think it's immoral, indecent and downright dishonest for a public official to use a Government-owned vehicle. As if it isn't done every day, almost everywhere.

So why the hurrah? In private industry, this automobile business would have been settled with the "it's half a dozen of one and six of another" rule.

Our Girl Scouts Are A Credit To This Community; They Deserve Your Thanks And Hearty Support

Thanks to the adults in Girl Scouting what began as an idea over fifty years ago is an ideal today.

When you give generously to the 1964 Girl Scout Fund Drive in Fulton, you are backing the fine citizens, old and young, who help make our country great.

Juliette Low, the beloved Founder of Girl Scouting in the United States, was a vigorous, determined woman, who understood how important things of the spirit were in forming a young woman's character. What applied in her day, some fifty years ago, is just as apt today. She said: "Have you ever stopped to think that your most constant companion throughout life will be yourself? You will always have this body, this mind, and this spirit that you call 'I'... but this body and this mind and this spirit are constantly changing and growing, and it is quite possible for the owner to direct this growth and change. In order to live well, in order to possess the joy of life, and to be helpful to others, a Scout needs to apply her motto 'Be Prepared' to herself. Strength and beauty should be hers in body, mind and spirit."... and beauty in body and spirit are indeed the heritage of the Girl Scouts in the United States.

Look around you at the Girl Scouts in Fulton. Aren't you proud of them? They are sharing with millions of other girls in the profoundly important spiritual, education, and social experiences of Girl Scouting. Girl Scouts share a sense of community responsibility that extends beyond the borders of their own town, to their country, and even the world. When you give to Fulton Girl Scout Fund Drive, you are supporting a part of an international movement for better citizenship.

The Thursday night bridge club met on February 3 at the home of Mrs. I. M. Jones on Central Avenue. Two tables of members were present. High score prize went to Mrs. Reginald Williamson and Mrs. Ardell Sams was low. The hostess served a lovely salad plate late in the evening.

The Palestine Homemakers Club was host to a March of Dimes party on January 31 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson on the Middle Road. During the evening card games were enjoyed. About fifteen dollars went into the Infantile Paralysis Fund from this party.

This lovely, balmy weather you're having here at the first of February has the golfers out cleaning up their equipment, the gardeners out grubbing around the yard, and the winter dust, down to blow, and the great outdoors again an exhilarating place to play and relax. The weather won't last, of course, but isn't it fine while it's here!

In the "Tidbits of Kentucky Folklore" column that reaches our office each week, the writer this week happened to be discussing language changes in this area, and here are a few more words for your Kentuckiana dictionary to go along with those I mentioned last week. Says the writer:

"My own uncle, who lived to have several college graduates among his descendants, knewed and seed and heered to the end of his ninety years."

"Here are some regionalisms that persist, and may continue to do so; carry, to escort, like carrying your girl to an ice-cream supper; pack, to lift and take away, like packing in a baggage; reckon, to suppose or think, like reckoning that it might rain tomorrow. Our champion regionalism, however, one that shows no signs of ever decaying but rather of spreading its influence is you-all. Studies indicate that it is extending its usage area, for it is useful in indicating the plural, without one's having to add extra words to show that more than one person is meant: you boys, you girls, you fellows, you guys."

More stories about black eyes dept: How would it look for a husband and wife to enter church Sunday with BOTH sporting big black eyes? That's a problem

Frank and Florence Beadles had to explain away once upon a time, and here's the way it happened, Frank recalled to me the other day:

On a Friday afternoon Frank took a shotgun out to kill a few blackbirds. As he drew a bead on one, another lit just above the first, he raised his gun slightly to get both of them and in so doing must have loosened the butt of the gun against his shoulder. Result: a good strong kick-back, and a black eye.

Then the following night wife Florence arose in the middle of the night at their home, and in the darkness ran into an open door. Result: another black eye door. Ladies family.

In the B. realized that this story might be such a proof with a ways established. Frank was there when he shot the blackbirds, and saw what happened.

I don't see why those who take life so disappointed that their television pictures from the moon didn't arrive on split second schedule. Here I can't even get Louisville off my TV—300 miles away—and they expected to get pictures from the moon (how far is it, 240,000 miles???) immediately. My theory is that the cameras worked, and took pictures, but that there will be a little delay in getting the waves back to earth. Like about next Christmas.

Jim Champion, local telephone manager, tells us that when dial phones are in operation here around the end of 1968, the seven-digit numbers for Fulton, Ky. will begin with "472" and those in South Fulton will begin with "479". During all of the years, there has been no effort to distinguish between phones on the Kentucky and Tennessee sides of the twin cities, since they have been all served out of a central exchange, same as the mail routes out of the local postoffice.

The different prefix will solve the interstate-call problem. For instance, right now it's quite a bit cheaper to call distance points in Kentucky by stepping across the state line into South Fulton and calling from there, and taking advantage of lower interstate rates... or ditto in Tennessee by coming over into Fulton, Ky. and making your call. You see, when your call crosses a State line its cost is regulated by a fixed Federal mileage schedule; as long as it stays within the State, even though it is all the way to Ashland from here (some 450 miles), it is not!

100 Years Ago This Week

An historical review of the Civil War day by day in Kentucky, as reviewed by the Kentucky Civil War Commission. By JOE JORDAN.

One hundred years ago this week a Kentucky congressman, Green Clay Smith, was under attack by his home-state newspapers and by other members of the Kentucky delegation in Washington for having stated on the floor of the House of Representatives that he favored the abolition of slavery.

D. C. Wickliffe, editor of the Lexington Observer and Reporter, who had been a strong supporter of the Union and was credited with having been influential in keeping Kentucky from seceding and joining the Confederacy, wrote that Smith "openly and unblushingly ranged himself with the Abolitionists of the House, rising in his place and declaring that slavery must be eradicated from the land before the nation can be restored to a condition of permanent peace and prosperity. This very justly brought down upon him the terrible scathing he received first at the hands of Mr. Mallory and then of Mr. Wadsworth." (They were Kentucky congressmen elected on the same ticket with Smith the previous August.)

"Now," the editorial continued, "no man who is not utterly callous to truth will pretend that Mr. Smith, in the position he assumes with reference to slavery in connection with the rebellion, either represents the views of the people of Kentucky or of any considerable portion of them. Upon no question ever presented to the people of the state was there more unanimity than exists upon this subject. Kentucky has renounced and denounced the action of the Administration and of Congress in regard to the matter from the beginning."

Furthermore, Wickliffe wrote, Smith would not have won if the Union Army had not controlled the election. "Threats, intimidation and direct interference at the polls were resorted to, and out of a voting population of 180,000... only about 83,000 in all were polled in the entire state."

James B. Clay, a son of Henry Clay, was buried in the Lexington Cemetery. He had died at 46 of tuberculosis. He had sided with the Confederacy. George D. Prentice, Unionist editor of the Louisville Journal, a native of Connecticut, had come to Kentucky in 1828 to write a campaign biography of Henry Clay and had become a member of the Clay household when James B. Clay was 11 years old. "He was our friend during most of the years of his life," Prentice wrote, "though not during the latest... Terribly as we think of his support of the rebellion, we would gladly cast a flower upon his grave."

Illinois Central Announces Changes In Operating Personnel; Cox Arrives Here

Several changes in Operating Department personnel were announced today by the Illinois Central Railroad.

Arthur M. Dickerson was named assistant superintendent of the Illinois Division. His headquarters will be at Champaign. Harold G. Mullins of Waterloo, Ia., will succeed him as assistant superintendent of the St. Louis Division at Carbondale, Ill. Succeeding Mr. Mullins as trainmaster on the Iowa Division at Waterloo is James M. Law. Raymond L. Warren succeeds Mr. Law as trainmaster on the Kentucky Division at Louisville. George W. Cox, Jr., is appointed trainmaster on the St. Louis Division to fill the vacancy created by Mr. Warren's transfer. His offices will be at Fulton, Ky. Charles L. Colyer succeeds Mr. Cox as trainmaster on the Mississippi Division with headquarters at Vicksburg.

Mr. Dickerson began his Illinois Central service in 1960 as a telegraph operator on this Mississippi Division. He has been assistant trainmaster at Memphis and trainmaster at Cleveland, Miss., and Baton Rouge. He was promoted to assistant superintendent of the St. Louis Division at Carbondale in March, 1963.

Mr. Mullins came to the Illinois

Central in 1942 as a brakeman on the Centralia District. During his service he has worked as a junior engineering aide at Paducah, assistant track supervisor and assistant trainmaster at Jackson, Tenn. He was later trainmaster at Chicago, McComb, Miss., and Champaign, Ill. He became trainmaster at Waterloo in June, 1963. Mr. Mullins attended the University of Kentucky and Murray State College.

Mr. Law's railroad service started in 1942 as a flagman on the Mississippi Division. Following work as a flagman and conductor he was assistant trainmaster at Gibson City, Ill., and Council Bluffs, Ia. In 1962 he was advanced to trainmaster at Cleveland, Miss. In February of this year he was named trainmaster at Louisville. Mr. Law attended Union University at Jackson, Tenn., and the University of Southern Mississippi at Hattiesburg.

Mr. Warren began his Illinois Central employment as a yard clerk at Jackson, Tenn., in 1960. He has since been trainmaster's clerk at Princeton, Ky., secretary to general manager at Chicago, stationmaster and assistant trainmaster at Fulton, Ky., assistant trainmaster at Central City, Ky., and trainmaster at Jackson, Miss., and Blufford, Ill.

Mr. Cox came to the Illinois Central as a brakeman on the Illinois Division in 1942 and became a conductor in 1946. He was advanced to assistant trainmaster at Madisonville, Ky., in 1956; trainmaster at Chicago in 1957; and trainmaster at Vicksburg in 1963.

Mr. Colyer joined the Illinois Central in 1943 as a rail checker and later worked as a locomotive fireman and an engineer. In 1957 he became a fuel engineer. He was promoted to assistant trainmaster at Baton Rouge in 1961.

64 Edition Of Farmer's Guide Ready

The 1964 edition of Farmer's Tax Guide is now available from local Internal Revenue offices and from county farm agents. It was announced today by Mortimer M. Caplin, Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

This 64 page publication, which is free, contains instructions in both general and specialized areas of Federal income and self-employment taxes as they apply to farmers.

With JIM PRYOR
Agricultural Agent, Illinois Central Railroad
OPPORTUNITIES FOR 1964

The beginning of anything new is always filled with doubts and suspicions by many. This is natural, as time will recall when new inventions, discoveries and ideas have been announced, a cloud of doubt and wondering if all claims offered would be fact or fallacy.

No doubt this same idea rings in the minds of many farmers as we close the old year and enter a new one. The new year always brings new problems, many of which are easily solved and others such as weather we have no control over. As we enter the new year, however, there are many bright spots on the horizon for the farmer and his family who are willing to accept change, adapt themselves to newer methods and the latest research. True, there are many problems, but with them come unlimited opportunities. The costs of production and operation must be watched closely. Strict and every day adherence to good management practices must be applied. Farmers today are more than field hands, they are businessmen and among the nation's largest, too! Industry that follows this example has been very successful, farming can be, too.

A bit of advice is offered here to farmers and farm families for 1964. Firm decisions should be made about plans for the farm early. Sit down with pencil and paper and jot down your ambitions for the coming season. While doing this, be sure to list your problems as well. Determine as best you can what your expenses will be this year, and also estimate the income expected from each project under operation. This could also be a guide to select one for expansion or elimination.

I think it is always best to follow the guide lines set and proven by the experiment stations. Have your soil tested now! Follow the recommendations that the test calls for, since these tests are conducted under University of Kentucky specifications and the laboratory checked every month for accuracy.

It is essential to keep an accurate set of records on your farming operation. Plan an office with necessary equipment to do a good job even if it is nothing but a table with a light clock by, it will be a place where you can figure and think about your operation.

Many important facts and ideas can be found in farmer meetings. Attend all of them if possible, that you may be up to date. This is also a very good place to see your neighbors and exchange ideas and farming facts as well as information from your farm leaders. Help make 1963, a banner year DOWN ON THE FARM!

NAMESAKE!

Kenya, the British East African Colony scheduled for independence in December, was named after its glacier-topped Mount Kenya. "Kenya" comes from the Bantu word "Kilinyaa" which means the "white mountain."

Tree Planting Good Now; State Has Many Seedlings

Another spring tree planting season has rolled around. The Kentucky Division of Forestry will be lifting some 15-20 million tree seedlings in February and March so that landowners who have eroded or idle land can put it back in production.

Income from pine plantations, wisely managed, can start in 12 to 17 years when a thinning takes place. The 5 year spread is a result of the different soils and what kind of shape the land was in to start with. Idle land planted to pine trees (in this area, loblolly and short-leaf pine) can yield an annual long time return of $15.00 per acre, depending on how badly abused the land was to begin with. The return can vary from a high of $26 to a low of $7 per acre. Taking the $15 per acre annual return over a 45-year-period adds up to $675 per acre. This is not all profit because you have to figure the cost of planting, but that still would be a good return on land that was actually costing taxes instead of making money.

Through the A. C. Program (Agricultural Conservation Program), administered by the county A. S. C. S. Office, a landowner can cost-share for trees. The cost-share rate is $16.00 per thousand trees (approximately 1,000 trees are set per acre) and $8 per thousand for the cost of the trees and $6 toward the cost of planting them. Contract crews will set trees for landowners at a cost of $2 - $4 per acre.

If you are interested in planting trees, contact the Division of Forestry, Mayfield, Kentucky, or order your trees from your local A. S. C. S., S. C. S., or county agent's office.

Another good money tree crop is black locust used for fence posts. It takes from 12-15 years to produce post-size trees. Each post is worth 10c-15c each, standing. One acre of land can produce from 1500 to 2000 posts if properly managed. Black locust, in order to grow good, healthy trees, must have better land than pine. Therefore, it is wise to consult a service forester and have him select the proper site.

CHESTNUT GLADE

By Mrs. Harvey Vaughn

The annual March of Dimes has been finished in this community. The response has been generous, for which the workers are most grateful. Each home in the community has been visited; however, if anyone was not at home when the worker called, a contribution may be made to Mrs. V. C. Simpson, community chairman, who is most appreciative of the assistance of the helpers. They were Mrs. Roy Nix, Mrs. Laverne Owensby, Mrs. Harvey Vaughn, Mrs. Wayne Grissom, Mrs. James Hicks, Mrs. Dual Williams, Mrs. Dent McMin, Mrs. Jim Burke and Mrs. Hansel Brundige.

Each person in this community is being urged to take the Sabin oral vaccine Sunday, February 8. There will be a clinic at each school in the county except at Gleason, where it will be at the city hall. County organizations endorsing this project are The Weakley County Medical Association, Weakley County Education Association, Weakley County Court, Weakley County Chamber of Commerce. Persons in this area may either go to the Martin or Dresden school.

Mrs. Mart Reed, who had the misfortune to fall and break a hip last week, is reported to be improving nicely after undergoing surgery at Campbell's Clinic in Memphis.

Mrs. Orvin Morrison is improving after an attack of pneumonia recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Billie Morrison and daughter of Memphis visited their parents in this community and at Fulton last week end. His mother had pneumonia, also her father, Jessie Neal Clinard, had pneumonia at that time.

Mrs. Ches Morrison was honored with a birthday supper last Saturday night, January 25, by the Couples Club of this community. The same group honored Mrs. Harvey Vaughn with a birthday supper on February 1. This group highly favors having birthdays, as this affords such a pleasant occasion.

Best wishes to Ralph Nix Rogers, who assumed the duties of post master at Martin on February 1.

Doctor Says Slow Down Middle Ageds ....

Middle-age people, planning their retirement, are constantly exhorted to live within their means. They are cautioned to examine their financial structure and prepare to stay within it.

But what about their physical and mental means? How many take these into consideration when they plan?

A doctor who has many patients over 50 said recently: "If more middle-agers would learn to pace themselves, there would be fewer worn-out old people. They could retain their exuberance and endurance. But too many of my patients believe they must go on pushing as hard, or harder, than ever, even when their bodies begin to protest.

"If you can't do anything better, put your feet up on the desk mentally for a few moments and think of something besides the immediate problem. Not even your boss will notice. Relax more on the weekends. Get yourself in practice to enjoy the easier years."

The easier years have been interrupted for one of his women patients. In spite of what might have become too big a burden, this woman has managed to do what she had to do and still follow his advice.

Her widowed daughter and the grandchildren came to live with her. Finances were improved by pooling their resources, but the grandmother wondered how she would meet the challenge physically and mentally.

"I knew I would have to change my ways—to quicken some and slow down others," she said. "Instead of my leisurely approach to the day, breakfast was early. After getting up weary and red-eyed the first week, I changed my own bedtime to soon after the children settled down.

"From having an easy-to-keep-clean house for one lone woman, it was now a case of picking up every hour on the hour. I had to train myself to take things as they came. When I could rest, however briefly, I made the most of the time. When there was too much confusion, I retreated until I was ready to face it."

Everyone Re-elected ...

At the annual meeting of the stockholders and directors of the First National Bank in Clinton last week all officers, directors and employees were re-elected. They are as follows:

George W. Bacot, president; W. M. Cunningham, vice-president; H. S. Alexander, cashier; Fred W. Brock, Jr. and Robert Lee Veatch, assistant cashiers; Ruth Brock, Eloise Jackson, Nell Hemphill and Barbara Allen, bookkeepers.

Farm Employees 'On Their Own' For Benefits From Social Security Plan

Farm employees do not enjoy many of the fringe benefits that industrial employees have and take for granted. Most office and factory workers are covered by company pension and health plans and also are entitled to vacation and sick leave. Some companies even provided "profit sharing" and "stock options" for their employees. Under these circumstances, the average city worker feels relatively safe and secure.

However, the farm worker is largely "on his own" when it comes to providing for himself and his family. Most farm operators cannot afford to furnish these benefits for their workers. Therefore, the farm employee usually has to "look out for himself" when it comes to providing for himself and his family against the day of retirement, disability, or death.

Charles Whitaker, District Manager of the Paducah Social Security Office states the farm employer can, however, help to assure his workers continuous protection under social security by keeping complete and accurate records of the wages paid and by reporting these wages at the end of the year on Form 943 to Internal Revenue Service. If an agricultural worker is paid $1.50 cash wages in a year or if he does farm work on 20 or more days during a year on a time basis, he is covered by social security and his wages should be reported by the farm operator. Reports for 1963 must be filed by January 31, 1964. This is not a voluntary thing but is required by the social security law.

By reporting properly, farm operators can help their workers build financial protection for themselves and their families. Future social security retirement, disability, and survivors benefits will be based on these wages.

Whitaker invites farm employers who have any questions about reporting their workers' wages for social security to get in touch with the Social Security District Office, 112 South Tenth Street, Paducah, Kentucky.

SPORTS WORLD

Peoples with 23 points for the night. The Bulldogs had two sharp shooters, they were Spain with 21 and Bradley with 19. I didn't get any indication about the girls' game for Friday night.

Then on Saturday night the Red Devils lost to Atwood 68-41 and the Devillets lost 74-44. The high scoring Peoples came through again with 12 and Crabtree also added 12 to both Fulton's 41. For Atwood it was Jackson 24 and Williams with 10 to Atwood's 58.

The Devillets were defeated 74-44 with Andy Neeley leading the Devillets with 18 points and Pat Lowe adding 12 points. For Atwood the high scorers were Johnson with 32 and Trawick adding 29.5 points.

But on the other side of the State Line the Fulton Bulldogs went on the march against the Calloway County Lakers and barely slipped by the Lakers, as the score was 48-45.

John Shepherd was the honor man of the game as he took 21 rebounds and added 16 points for Fulton. John played better Saturday night than he has been playing the past few weeks. Terry Beadles was second in the pace with 16 points. It takes five men to make a good team and the other three are Bradley, McAllister and Bushart. Fulton is also lucky to have a sixth man who can play the game as well as any of the other five, he is Teddy Barclay. Teddy has done a great job as a replacement for any of the first five.

Calloway County, under the coaching of Howie Crittenden, played a good game, just to be disappointed by losing by 4 points. The Lakers came out hard and fast at the start of the game and played hard all the way to the final buzzer.

From what he saw, the Lakers like to play fast ball. They like to move the ball fast and quick, and they had five good boys who could do just that. Housden and Crick lead the Lakers with 12 points each.

Friday night the Red Devils will play Kanton. The game will be played at the South Fulton gym. Then on Saturday night they will play Mason Hall and that game will be there. Also, on Friday the Bulldogs will be hosts to the Fulton County team, that game to be played at the Carr gym. Then on Saturday night Hickman County will host the Bulldogs. All four of these games are going to be thrillers, so go and see either of our Twin Cities teams play.

SOUTH FULTON HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

The South Fulton Devillets downed the Gleason girls by the score of 41-35. Judy Neely was back in the line-up and led the scoring with 16 points. In the boys game it was South Fulton all the way defeating Gleason 83-64. Clayburn Peoples led the Devils with 23 points. February 1 the South Fulton teams journeyed to Atwood and were defeated in both games. The girls' score was 74-44, and the boys' score was 58-41. The remaining basketball schedule is February 4, South Fulton plays Lake County there; February 7, South Fulton plays Kanton here, and the final game February 8, South Fulton plays

Mason Hall there. These games conclude the year except for the tournaments. The South Fulton girls play their first game in the tournament with Gleason at 7:30 P. M. February 18 at Palmersville. The boys play their first game with Palmersville February 12 at 7:00 P. M. at the Field House at U. T. M. B. The many South Fulton friends and admirers of Linda Thorpe, a last year's graduate, are very proud of her as she won the top honors as "Fairest of the Fair" in Nashville, Tennessee January 31. We're all very happy for you, Linda. The last shipment of the 1963-64 annual was sent off January 28. The co-editors are Sandra Toon and Diane Clement, but much credit is to be given to the many other workers.

Conservation Director Quinn' Here To Map Plans For Clean-Up Drive

Preliminary plans are under way for the 1964 Clean-Up, Paint-Up and Fix-Up week in Fulton.

Mrs. Connie Quinn, Assistant Director of the Department of Conservation, which co-ordinates the "Make Kentucky A Cleaner, Greener Land" program and Steve Sandlin of the Kentucky Health Department met with Mrs. Ruth Rudolph, chairman of the Health and Sanitation Committee, Bill Scott, president of Chamber of Commerce, Ward Johnson, Charles Robert Bennett, city commission members, Harry Barry, Registered Sanitarian, Mrs. John Watts, Nutritionist and Mrs. Robert Hyland to discuss activities.

The two state officials were taken on a tour of Fulton and made suggestions and recommendations on clean-up and beautification. It was suggested by Mr. Sandlin that the County Board of Health adopt a "Garbage and Refuse Regulation," which has been accepted and approved by the State Board of Health. This regulation has been used very effectively in other counties on similar clean-up programs.

It was also suggested that leading Fulton citizens, as well as other State Agency heads, be taken on a bus tour of Fulton, to view not only the good, clean areas, but the dirty unattractive areas. This could be done in conjunction with clean-up week.

Fulton has made a great deal of progress on their clean-up program during the past several years, but there is still a great deal to be done. If Fulton and the entire area is to grow economically, we must clean-up and beautify.

Letters To Editor

"THE NEWS"
Fulton County
Fulton, Kentucky

Gentlemen:

I have just had the privilege of seeing a copy of your special edition of November 21st, 1963, showing particularly the Banana Festival pictures and featuring rather extensively and in a very excellent manner, "our girl", Donna Axum of El Dorado, now Miss America of 1964.

I was very much interested... for first, I have been dealing with newspapers for fifty years in the retail business, and also for the reason that we here at The El Dorado House have clothed Donna since she was a child of some twelve years of age, with our providing her wardrobe in its entirety for the Miss Arkansas contest back in the summer, and with her wearing as her talent dress and her formal for the Miss America Pageant, our gowns. Our Fashion Director served as her official chaperone to the Miss Arkansas Pageant and also in Atlantic City for the Miss America Pageant. Donna was indeed an apt pupil, following Mrs. Mason's advice and suggestion in everything that she did and wore. Donna and her parents were the guests of Mrs. Mason and the writer for dinner one evening when Donna was here for the Christmas Holidays. We carried her shopping in November when in New York, for some woolen things, and sold her additional outfits when she was home for the Holidays. Most of these, and everything else, were ruined in the Jacksonville fire, but we are deeply grateful that, even though there was much loss of life, both Donna and her chaperone were not seriously injured.

Mrs. Mason talked to her the afternoon of the fire, and only yesterday I talked to her father who had just talked to her in New York at the Park Lane hotel, and she feels that she is fully recovered from the experience.

The art work in your edition is beautifully done, and presumably is an offset printing process, which is now being installed in a new plant by our local paper, The El Dorado Daily News.

I shall very much appreciate your sending the writer, in care of the firm, several copies of this edition, as we would like to have them to show locally, possibly in the window at sometime, all of which were given over to Donna for her homecoming the 1st of November.

Congratulations again on your good job.

Cordially yours,

THE EL DORADO HOUSE
Burney Wilson, President

TOGETHER

Brothers — together — helping one another. We are our brother's keeper and his helper. Comfort, cheer, and encouragement should be given to each other.

There should be a willingness on the part of each to sacrifice for the other.

A Divine Example was sent to us, and these are His words: "This is my commandment, that ye love one another, as I have loved you. Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends."

You are invited to attend church Sunday to learn more of the One who gave us this commandment.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Fulton County Agent's News

JOHN WATTS

The best time to spring sow lawn grass seed is on a honeycomb frost. Many sowings did not succeed last fall because of the dry weather.

Honeycomb frosts usually are frequent during February. The grass seed is sown early in the morning, before the ground thaws. As the ground thaws, the frost ridges (honeycomb) melt, level out and partially cover the seed. Subsequent frosts complete the process.

Sow good common Kentucky Bluegrass seed at the rate of one pound per 1,000 square feet of area. A light mulch of clean straw can be added. One bale per 1,000 square feet should be enough. Use up to 20 to 25 pounds of 10-10-10 or similar fertilizer per 1,000 square feet.

Scattering the seed on a honeycomb frost will assure early germination. The grass will have a better chance to be three inches or taller by mid-April. If mowed no shorter than three inches it will have less crab grass in it next summer.

If your lawn is not fitted now, sow annual ryegrass when it is fitted, and reseed and sow to a permanent grass next September.

A dairy school will be held at the Palestine Community House near Fulton next Tuesday, February 11, from 10:00 A. M. to 3:00 P. M.

Mr. Warren Thompson, Field Agent in Forage Crops and Mr. E. C. Scheidenhelm, Dairy Specialist, both from the University of Kentucky will be on the program to discuss improved dairy production methods.

All farmers and feed dealers are urged to attend.

RULING—

first such ruling that has been made in Circuit Court when being held in Fulton.

According to Judge Tipton permitting the Grand Jury to act and Circuit Court to meet in the City of Fulton was declared unconstitutional by the State Supreme Court in 1932. However he stated that this is the first time that any lawyer has ever entered a motion to the court based on these grounds.

This act was rescinded by the and later action of the Legislature means that any indictment that is returned by the Grand Jury in the City of Fulton can be dismissed simply on a motion by any attorney, and that any defendant who desired so would have to be tried by the Circuit Court at Hickman and not at Fulton.

Circuit Court started meeting in Fulton by an act of the Legislature that was passed in 1900. This act reads as follows: "That in all counties of the State having a town not larger than the 4th class and containing a population larger than that of the County seat according to the Federal enumeration, 1900, and situated over 17 miles from the County Seat, the Circuit Court for each of said Counties shall be held alternately so as to divide the time between the County Seat and the larger town as the business may require, the first part of the term as not provided by law to be held at the County seat, and the other part of the term to be held at the larger town."

This act was rescinded by the State Legislature in 1940 as being unconstitutional.
